My Circulatory System Notes

○ _________ sends blood through the body.

○ The heart is the primary “engine” that drives the ________________.

○ The Circulatory System is the body’s ________________.

○ It ________________ throughout the body.

○ Blood moves ________ from the ________________ to cells everywhere in the ________________.

○ The heart is the ________________

○ It is made of ____________ and located in the ________________ and is about the _________ of a fist.

○ The heart is divided into _______ chambers., ____ ventricles and ____ atria.

○ Blood moves into the ______ from the body, then to and throughout the lungs, back through the heart and then distributed throughout the body.

○ The ________________ are the receiving chambers, accepting blood from the ___________ and ____________.

○ The ________________ are the pumping chambers, moving blood to the _______ and throughout the _________.
